An Individual Development Plan (IDP) is a structured planning tool designed to help you:

- identify long-term career goals that fit with your unique skills, interests, and values,
- make a plan for improving your skills,
- set goals for the coming year to improve efficiency and productivity, and
- structure productive conversations with your mentor(s) about your career plans and development.

This module will guide you through the process of creating an IDP:

Individual Development Plan or IDP

FSU IDP, five major categories =

1. Communication Goals
2. Teaching Goals
3. Scholarly Development Goals
4. Professionalism Goals
5. Career Development Goals
6. >>>> Semester Goals ("SMART")

Individual Development Plan or IDP

How to set a SMART goal

S – Specific – Is it focused and unambiguous?

M – Measureable – Could someone determine whether or not you achieved this goal?

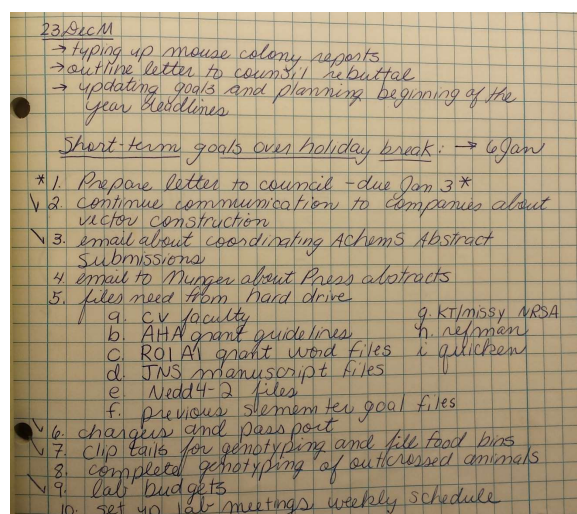

A – Action-oriented – Did you specify the action you will take?

R – Realistic – Considering difficulty and timeframe, is this goal attainable?

T – Time-bound – Did you specify a deadline?

Postdoc's Over Arching Goals and My Expected Priority

Nicotinic

1. Top priority will be to push hard to get your work accepted to JNS and if that does not work we will split as planned to ACN and Phys Beh
2. Start making figures for your GLP-1 study according to the J Physiology guide to authors. Once your JNS resubmission is out the door (then you can balance between addressing the critiques for your R03 proposal and writing up the J Physiology manuscript)
3. Submit your AHA proposal and then monitor your R03 proposal to see what the reviewers might request for revisions on Feb 20. The next deadline for the R03 is March 16, so you might request for revisions on Feb 20. The next deadline for the R03 is March 16, so you might request for revisions on Feb 20. The next deadline for the R03 is March 16, so you might request for revisions on Feb 20.
4. Make sure that all the GLP-1 null, GLP-1R null, and GluCre mice have been positively identified as homozygous genotype through outcrossing and confirmed genotyping of the pups. I started this and have all tail dna extracted and Kass can start to learn the tail biopsier with me down. Then the GluCre need to be confirmed given the difficulty informed by our collaborators. It might be advantageous to focus on the GLP-1R null mice at this time given the uncertainty with both the GLP-1 null (poor labeling intensity) and the GluCre (labeling outside the PPG promoter)
5. After catching your breath from the JNS data collection work load, then consider what you will need to set up optogenetics as would like
6. There will be some time needed prior to AChemS to help finalize slides for our symposium. Your poster will likely need not so much effort, building on your old one, but will need some additions

GLP-1 Project

- a. It will be important to isolate the current to determine what channel is responsible for the GLP-1 modulation so you will need to do a combination of traditional ionic substitution and pharmacological block like you learned about in biophysics course.
- b. GLP-1 transgenic mice - Examine distribution in various tissues

Collaborations (with confirmed co-authorship prerogative)

1. I will contact Judy Ochietto to find out the status of my response for MCR-AR one month mice. Also by they had not that they had a similar basal. OP primary is WT mice, but we pulled out by my SDS-PAGE (i.e. we know 3 phos of Kα1, 1 modulator not just basal activity in ACSF. Try a limited range DDO (compared with HF not MPE) and MCR-AR mice confirmed
2. Thank you for directing both Kass with the 1500 and two types of functional avenues for determining state of combined in a future project/publication. We will need believe Malina will be able to complete WT CF vs WT to take the lead to look at knockouts → Alz Dis

Kn oxy - HF- and Cocaine-treated mice (AChemS)

- a. Make sure that the task table is filled from red (actually performed experiment) on a DMSO baseline computer so we can plan ahead and help you keep of the pin worm contamination. It is very important day, that you try and find someone upstairs to retest previous cocaine mice that were infected and run on the Kooms. Not

Annual Review...What you should expect -

The postdoctoral scholar should fill out the following self-evaluation and then the advisor should make comments and return to the scholar. The two should meet and then design goals for the upcoming academic year. Following the design of the annual goals, a copy of the document should be forwarded to the Department's Postdoctoral Coordinator or Director.
